holistic support for birth, baby, and beyond

practices & care

A typical shift may include

- support and education
 - postpartum / mood disorders
 - healing
 - baby basics
 - feeding & sleeping
 - babywearing
 - car seat safety
 - older sibling acclimation
- light household maintenance
 - pump/bottle washing & sanitizing
 - light dishes
 - laundry: wash/dry / fold/tuck away
 - changing bedding
 - general tidying
- herbal bath preparation
- nurturing support and care for mom & baby (and family)
- baby care so parents can rest / spend time with older siblings / engage in self-care
- connection to resources and/or referral to other local providers
- grocery shopping / put-away
- more

One size doesn't fit all...

Postpartum care should be tailored to your specific needs and desires; as ever-changing as those may be! Needs change from hour to hour, and day to day. I'm always happy to be flexible and go-with-the-flow during our time together. My ultimate goal is for the mothers in my care to feel seen, heard, loved, and held.

When hiring me, you can receive:

- a source of knowledge & expertise
 - open to all questions and concerns
- a safe place to process and discuss the birth experience/traumas/worries/joys/sorrows
- connection to resources/local providers
- help towards feeding & sleeping goals
- support through baby's growth & development
- peace of mind & calming care
 - time for self-care, rest & rejuvenation
- household maintenance
- an understanding, supportive, and confidential companion (and biggest cheerleader)
- an eye out for anything atypical in mom, baby, or family that may require attention or referral
- a doula who will nurture, empower, and walk alongside you as you navigate parenthood
